Yuba County Farmers Giving Back

MEET THE YUBA RIVER ENDOWMENT MEMBERS

In a first-of-its-kind effort, a group of Yuba County farmers has established a non-profit organization and fund, titled the Yuba River Endowment, to benefit Yuba County residents.

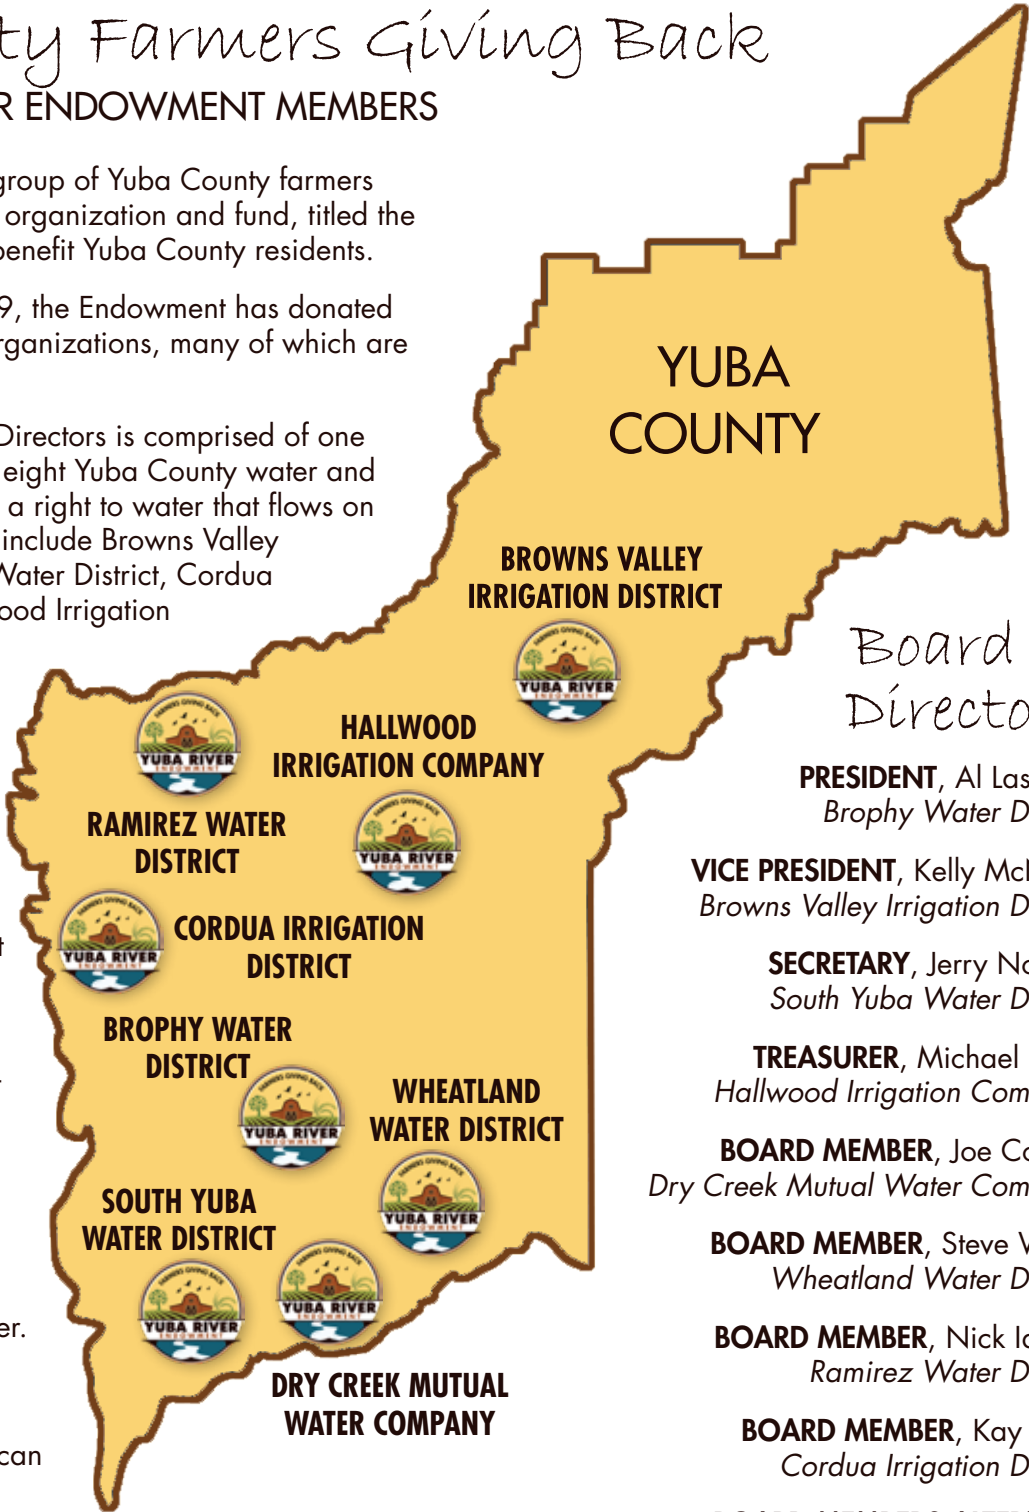

Since formation in late 2019, the Endowment has donated over $1.4 million to local organizations, many of which are featured in this newsletter.

The Endowment's Board of Directors is comprised of one representative from each of eight Yuba County water and irrigation districts who have a right to water that flows on the Yuba River. The districts include Browns Valley Irrigation District, Ramirez Water District, Cordua Irrigation District and Hallwood Irrigation Company in the north part of Yuba County; and Brophy Water District, Wheatland Water District, South Yuba Water District and Dry Creek Mutual Water Company in the south part of Yuba County.

These eight districts are part of a partnership called the "Yuba Accord" with local, state and federal agencies. This collaborative settlement initiative ended decades of controversy over flow requirements in the Lower Yuba River. The irrigation districts now provide their water for the environmental fish flows needed on the river.

When surface water and groundwater conditions are right, the irrigation districts can transfer a portion of their surface water and provide additional flows on top of the required environmental flows. This is called a groundwater substitution transfer, or conjunctive use of water.

A portion of the proceeds from these water transfers goes to the Endowment. It's truly Yuba County farmers giving back!

144,000 POUNDS OF LOCALLY GROWN RICE DONATED

Feeding Those in Need 2025 NEED WAS GREATEST SINCE COVID

The government shutdown again hit our local residents hard, and Yuba River Endowment delivered another two rounds of 16,000 pounds of locally grown rice to the Yuba-Sutter Food Bank in 2025. This makes nine such donations to date, totalling 144,000 pounds of rice.

Founded in 1983, the Yuba-Sutter Food Bank is leading the fight against food insecurity through community partnerships in the Yuba-Sutter area. They presently serve over 277,000 meals every month and distribute over 3.6 million pounds of food a year.

"Our motto for the Endowment is 'Local Farmers Giving Back,' and there's no better way we can help our community than by supplying our locally grown food," said Yuba River Endowment's, Al Lassaga.

Creating a Podcast

YUBA COUNTY FFA TEAMS GET IN-FRONT-OF & BEHIND THE CAMERA

From January through April, each of the four Yuba County FFA programs took a month to create a podcast! In 2024, the Endowment helped 93Q Community Radio rebuild their podcast studio. In exchange, the 93Q team agreed to work with our FFA groups to teach them — soup to nuts — how to create a podcast.

This unique opportunity let the students create their concept and scripts, interview, edit and help finalize the video. Some even added their own commercials! Super cute.

Historic Loma Rica Hall

COMMUNITY RALLIES TO RESTORE THEIR LANDMARK PROPERTY

Built "by the community for the community" more than a century ago, the 30-by-60-foot, two-story building has long served as a gathering place for youth organizations, town meetings, classes, celebrations of life, and wedding receptions... including our very own Endowment Board Member, Steve Springer, who celebrated his wedding reception there in 1979!

Also known as Grange Hall No. 802, the venue was constructed in 1923 and officially incorporated as a non-profit community center in 1948.

In August, the Hall volunteers, including Anita and Chuck Baker, launched a community campaign to bring this old gal back to life. Painting, gutters, porch repair, and much more were desperately needed.

The Endowment loves projects with "skin in the game", and the Loma Rica Hall volunteers had skin, blood and sweat in this game. They were able to raise enough funds from the community, and $10,000 from the Endowment, to complete all needed repairs, plus a face lift, updated interiors, and a new sign.

A Year of Extreme Need

THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH FOOD PANTRY

In October, the Endowment heard from the First Presbyterian Church Food Pantry of Marysville. The government shutdown has hit their population hard, and they are now serving 160 families each week at their food pantry distribution, up from 125 earlier in the year.

The church was founded in 1850 and is celebrating their 175th year in service. Their pantry is located at 1905-C Covillaud Street in Marysville, and distributes each Friday. The pantry is staffed by volunteers and funded through donations from church members and community grants.

RIGHT: The Endowment surprised the First Presbyterian Church with a $7500 donation, the largest to-date.

Bringing HOPE to Homeless Students

MJUSD PROGRAMS ENCOURAGE ATTENDANCE AND SUCCESS

Also in October, the Endowment donated another $7,500 to the Marysville Joint Unified School District's (MJUSD) HOPE Program, to assist local homeless students. There are currently 607 homeless students in the District (up from 540 last year).

The funds will again be used for the four HOPE programs not covered through grants, supplying snack bags, attendance rewards, holiday supplies and supplemental funds for homeless students to participate in things like FFA, cheerleading, sports and attend Shady Creek.

Sparkling Creativity & Competition for Local Youth

MOBILE WELDING UNIT LETS YUBA COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS ACHIEVE

In February, Yuba River Endowment Board Members presented the Yuba County Office of Education with $12,000 to purchase a mobile welding unit for the Yuba County Career Preparatory Charter School. Thank you to their instructor, Yuba County Supervisor Renick House, for making this dream a reality for students.

Mobile welding competitions have gained steam in the past few years and the YCCPC students were unable to compete. The gift has been put to good use already as you see in the photos!
